Paul simmons wakes up ready to go to class but realizes hes late

He looks for the fastest route to his class but cant find one because of traffic

He texts his friend to inform him he'll be late because of the unbelievable traffic

His friend tells him to get the traffic control app because it tells you the fastest path to each class

Paul downloads the app and plans out his route for the day

Now paul can leave his house without having to worry about traffic anymore

The Louie Lane Story

My drive to the “Game Show” show...

Made perfect timing to just get past train...

Took an alternate route that the app offered, and it took 5 minutes off the ride!! Also there was no traffic!

After the show I wanted to go to a chick fil la on the way home and I decided to take no highways. The app perfectly directed me to a chick fil la on the way home, but after the app adjusted my route because of a bad accident blocking the road I was going to take.

Taking the new route only took 3 extra minutes. My dog was very excited to see me home a few minutes early and not agervated from getting stuck in traffic all day.

After my first experience on the app I've used it everyday and it helps me avoid all the obstacles and delays I would've encountered had I not used the app.

Charles was relaxing at the local park after grading his student's papers where it appeared that they had not even taken third grade English, much less the first 4 weeks of English 102. Then he remembered he had to pick up his kids from school.

He begins to run through the park, yelling "I will never make it to the school on time." Luckily for Charles he was stopped by 2 high schoolers to show him the Traffic Control app. He instantly downloaded the app.

Charles was very excited when he discovered the app showed him the quickest route to the school, where it avoided all accidents on the road. He then began to explore the app some more and realized he can even put in his favorite spots so it is saved in the app.

While Charles was driving to the school, an accident occurred just two miles ahead of him. Luckily, Traffic Control updated him in real time and altered his route so his arrival time would not change much if at all.

He was still able to get his kids from school on time. He was ecstatic because when he got home his wife would not be upset with him for forgetting the kids at the school again. Traffic Control is now his go to app with all things traveling. Even on his bike rides around the neighborhood because he discovered that it is not only when driving your car. The app offers on foot and on bike directions.

Due to Charles being saved by the app. He then took his excitement to facebook. His post read, "If you guys have not downloaded the "Traffic Control" app y'all are missing out. You know how upset Mary gets with me when I forget the kids for an hour or so at the school. This app caused me to escape this instance for today."

Noah wakes up late after partying all night

The normal route he takes is jam packed with traffic both on foot and by car, and is now behind schedule

Noah's friend Ted is waiting on him, and Noah says he is stuck in traffic. Ted suggests the new traffic app around campus to him, and the features it has to offer.

As Noah was walking a mustang comes speeding down the busy intersection, so he downloads the new traffic app

Noah is amazed by the features of the app such as route options, walking shortcuts to avoid intersections

With all the time saved by the app Noah has time to chill with his business major friends with yachts

Story of Manvi KN

By Sri Nandury

Manvi pretends to be in a hurry saying that she has a important meeting added to her schedule last minute. Her Husband tries to calm her down and helps her get ready.

But she wanted to surprise her husband on his big day. He is acting in a movie and today is his first day of shoot of his debut. She then left to office(waiting at a cafe) and He reached the shoot location.

She now started to the shoot location but got stuck in a traffic line. As they were waiting she overheard a couple talking about an traffic control app which gave them shortcuts to reach their destination.

She then downloaded the app. "Traffic Control". It showed many shortcuts to reach her destination. She also activated the voice interaction so as she could concentrate more on driving.

She reached her destination on time and surprised her husband. He was very happy to see his wife be with him on his big day. Their love grows!!:))). She thanked the App for making this possible!
